As spiritual beings having a human experience, we sometimes need to review lessons we have had in the past. One of these recurring lessons is peacemaking. Peacemaking involves resolving conflict. It also includes evaluating our expectations and assumptions regarding our own behavior and that of others. How do we experience peace in our lives? How do we create a sense of peace for ourselves and our community? What do we do when we feel a lack of peace? How do we handle conflict?

As we prepare for a change in leadership at Unity North, we have retained the services of a consultant from Unity Worldwide Ministries, Rev. Dr. Steve Colladay. Recently, we hosted two workshops with Steve Colladay. Steve had several recommendations for us, including a study of The I of the Storm by Gary Simmons. The I of the Storm invites the reader to examine who we have labeled as friend or enemy, and why. The book also provides practical advice for our daily lives.

Rhonda Italiano has been a Licensed Unity Teacher since 2005. She has been the co-spiritual director at Unity North since 2015. In addition to her work at Unity North, Rhonda teaches full-time at North Hennepin Community College in Brooklyn Park.
